

DILLAN LAMB MUSIC weddings

Hey there! I'm Dillan (or Dill), an experienced, easy listening, floor filling singer from Cheshire. I've been singing just shy of a decade now and being chosen to share such a special day never grows old - I really do love being there for you.

My aim is to keep things simple. I'll seamlessly fall into the background with no disruption to you or your guests - you won't even know I'm there - until I start singing. Then, it's usually happy tears and as the day goes on, some questionable dance moves!

If you've made it this far then you're probably wanting to know a bit more about what I can offer you and those all important prices - don't worry, you'll find it all here - no need to email first (I told you I like to keep things simple).

If you think we're a fit, just get in touch - a call, an email, a text - I'm always happy to answer any questions you might have!
